EARLY VOTING STRESSED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—The importance of Hoover supporters not only voting, but making sure that they vote early on election day, was stressed tonight by Henry J. Allen, former Governor of Kansas, director of publicity for the Republican National Committee.

"Hoover supporters should take the time to vote early after a canvass of the territory within their jurisdictions, we are confident that Herbert Hoover will receive the largest majority ever given a candidate for President and will receive as large or a larger majority in the electoral college than that received by President Coolidge in his great triumph of four years ago.

"It is important in order that this victory shall be overwhelming that Republican activity should not slacken until the polls are closed on Tuesday evening. Word received here is that Republican organizations are functioning with such earnestness as to justify the prophesy that there will be no let-down in interest until the votes are in and counted. The volunteer activity by Hoover supporters, especially women, is of unprecedented proportions."

"Information from some of the more bitterly contested metropolitan districts makes us fear that the opposition may resort to an old trick of crowding the polling places with those who have already voted in order to discourage Hoover people who may arrive late and be presented with the prospect of a long wait before being allowed to vote.

"As the result of reports reaching these headquarters from every State in the eastern area and from figures in a campaign which has been known in recent years and during this period, from beginning to end, he has battled with sleeves rolled up for the Democracy which he heads. He has traveled far in his time from the towering skyscrapers in the shadow of which he was born, and reared—the Atlantic and the Rockies have been the boundaries of his campaign. All told, he has journeyed more than 11,000 miles.

In the "Solid South" he heard the tunes of "Dixie" and the "Sidewalks of New York" blended and here as in the political border country, the Midwest and the Far West, he was greeted by thousands who turned out to meet him; who cheered him and his waving brown derby and shouted out a "Hello Al."

Then, waving the derby for the last time west of the Allegheny Mountains he came back to the industrial East where his name first rose to prominence, for the last drive of the campaign—a drive which, to use his own words, was the "battle of the Atlantic Seaboard."

This started in Boston, penetrated as far south as Baltimore, and came to a close last night in Madison Square Garden, where he faced his largest audience of the campaign.

He wound up with the declaration that his travels over the country led him to "sincerely state to you that the American people are alive to the necessity for a change."

"They are enthusiastic for it," he concluded, "and they are looking to the Democratic party, and I am satisfied that the overwhelming re-awakened sentiment of the American people will be reflected in complete Democratic victory next Tuesday."

Today the nominee attended 10 o'clock mass at St. Agnes Church and then started for a short walk only to be forced indoors by a drizzling rain. After this he spent virtually all of the day in his suite in the hotel working on his two radio speeches.

Tonight he arranged to appear for a few minutes at a dinner in the hotel for the cast of the radio play, "Up from the City Streets."

publican candidate for Governor, and Harold P. Fabian, national committeeman of Utah.

Hoover's day in Utah began early.
At Helper, where his train halted to take on a second engine for its pull over the mountains, he came to his platform to greet the crowd of several hundred people who had risen with the sun to welcome him.
They would not be satisfied until Mrs. Hoover, too, had been brought to the platform.

Each little station along the steelrimmed trail through the mountains turned out its quota of citizens to cheer the nominee's train on its way. At Provo, rising on the southern end of Great Salt Lake basin, another large crowd massed about the station.

Hoover responded to the crowd's greeting to assure them of his appreciation of their welcome.

"I hope you will forgive me for not making an extended address on the Sabbath Day," he said. "I had not expected such a reception. It is a fine welcome."

Here his train was boarded by Mrs. Jeannette A. Hyde of Salt Lake City, national committeewoman for Utah, who rode on it to her home city.

His only political reference of the day was an indirect one made at Ogden when he "we have only one thing before us, and that is next Tuesday."

Several persons boarded the train here to chat briefly with the candidate while preparations were being made for the journey across Salt Lake and the desert into Nevada.

SACRAMENTO PLANS
GREETING TO NOMINEE

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Plans were being completed tonight for the reception of Herbert Hoover when he arrives in Sacramento for a five-minute stop tomorrow morning.

The special train bearing the Republican Presidential candidate is due to arrive in Sacramento at 8 a.m. tomorrow, en route to the Hoover home in Palo Alto by way of Stockton. A large crowd is expected to greet the candidate at the railroad station.

A caravan of automobiles which was originally to be formed in Sacramento for the purpose of meeting the special train at Roseville is merely to parade through the streets in Sacramento and then go to the station.

PALO ALTO SET FOR HOOPER'S HOMECOMING

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 4. (AP)—Elaborate preparations for Herbert Hoover's homcoming tomorrow were completed here and in Palo Alto today.

Buildings along the streets the Presidential candidate will travel going from the Southern Pacific station to his home were decorated with flags and bunting. Business houses arranged to close for an hour. Shop proprietors and employees promised to join in the ovation for the candidate.

Arrangements were made to have pupils from every public and private school within a radius of half a dozen miles—a territory dotted with hamlets almost continuous—present for the welcoming. The Palo Alto and Stanford University bands will furnish music.

The arrangements committee expressed hope that Hoover will deliver a brief speech before leaving the railroad station for his home here. That part of the program is undecided.

Hoover's progress from the station to his home will be a triumphal procession between lines of school children waving flags. Members of his graduating class at Stanford will take part in the reception.

The candidate's train is due here at 1:30 p.m. He will come here by way of Tracy and the Dumbarton cut-off without entering San Francisco or Oakland.

Coolidges Leave
Today for Polls

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Setting an example to the voters of the whole country, President and Mrs. Coolidge will leave Washington tomorrow evening for Northampton, Mass., to cast their ballots in Tuesday's general election.

Mr. Coolidge's plans call for only a brief stay in Northampton, only enough to attend the voting and to visit Mrs. Lemira Goodhue Mrs.
Coolidge's mother, who still is very ill in a hospital there. The return trip will be undertaken the same day, reaching the White House again the same evening.

SMITH REGARDS
VICTORY WON

Says Raskob Has Advice
Clearly Indicating Triumph

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—In a twenty-nine word statement Gov. Smith tonight said that the information in the possession of Chairman Raskob of the Democratic National Committee clearly indicates Democratic success;
the announcement issued from the Governor's suite at the Biltmore Hotel, read:

"I just had a two-hour conference with the chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

"He reports that advances in his possession clearly indicate a Democratic victory on Tuesday."

NEW ESTIMATE
FAVORS HOOVER

Assured 290 Electoral Votes, Says Californian

Fifty-five More Declared
Leaning to G.O.P.

Ninety-six Others Placed in Doubtful List

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—The following calculations made by Raymond Benjamin, San Francisco attorney and assistant to Chairman Work, now returning here on the Hoover special train, are based on reports from field workers and from more than 4,000 editors scattered over the forty-eight States. The totals place the certain Hoover electoral vote at 290.

In addition, States with fifty-five votes are classified as leaning to Hoover while ninety-six votes are regarded as doubtful.

The Hoover States, with their electoral votes, follow: Arizona, 3; California, 13; Colorado, 8; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Idaho, 3;
Illinois, 29; Indiana, 13; Iowa, 13;
Kansas, 10; Kentucky, 13; Maine,
6; Michigan, 15; Minnesota, 12;
Montana, 4; Nebraska, 8; Nevada,
3; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey,
14; Ohio, 24; Oklahoma, 10;
Oregon, 5; Pennsylvania, 38; South
Dakota, 5; Utah, 4; Vermont, 4;
Washington, 7; West Virginia, 8;
Wyoming, 3.

Leaning to Hoover are:
Maryland, 8; Missouri, 18; North Dakota, 5; North Carolina, 12; Tennessee, 12; Total, 88.

In the doubtful:
Massachusetts, 18; New Mexico, 3;
New York, 45; Rhode Island, 5; Virginia, 12; Wisconsin, 13. Total, 96.

Benjamin was regional director for the western States in the Harding campaign in 1920, and the foregoing estimates made up on similar reports in 1920, were found to be correct upon election day.

Mass Meetings
Will End Drive
of Democrats

Local Democrats will carry their activities of the eve of the election. Tonight two mass meetings are scheduled. One will follow a torchlight parade in Pasadena, the other will be under the auspices of the Woman's Smith-Robinson Club in the Roosevelt Hotel, Hollywood.

Leo Harris, general manager of the Pasadena torchlight parade, said yesterday that over 5,000 persons are "scheduled" to take part in the parade and that delegations are coming from many near-by cities. Following the parade, which will march on Greene street to Memorial Park, an address will be delivered to a mass meeting in the park by Miss Mary E. McCarthy, called by the Democrats "California's Joan of Arc." Earlier in the evening Miss McCarthy will listen to Mabel Walker Willebrandt's speech on the steps of the City Hall, Pasadena, and has announced her intention of answering Mrs. Willebrandt's arguments to the best of her ability.

There will be a Smith-Robinson victory ball tonight in Cindrella Roof, National Committeeman Laidore B. Dockweiler, Milton Bryan, Southern California campaign manager, and others are expected to be present.

H. H. McPike, Democratic State chairman, left for his home in San Francisco last night predicting victory for the Smith-Robinson ticket, both in the nation and the State.

BALL GAME SCHEDULED
NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 4.—The Exchange Club and the City Employees will meet in a ball game here Tuesday afternoon, and as both teams are so far undefeated, considerable interest is being taken in the battle, which will be at the grammar school grounds.

RASKOB SEES AVALANCHE

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—John Raskob, Democratic national chairman, declared tonight that he has an abiding faith that the common sense of the American people will prevail and that Gov. Smith and Senator Robinson will receive an avalanche of votes that will spell the greatest victory in the history of our country.

"Due to the loyalty, patriotism, energy and generosity of thousands of earnest men and women in every one of the forty-eight States, we have been able to accomplish wonders in getting before the electorate the purposes of the Democratic party," he said in a statement summing up the Democratic campaign.

"On all issues the Democrats under Gov. Smith have taken a position in accordance with the spirit both of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. I am satisfied that the great intelligent American electorate will march on election day on the road of progress with Gov. Smith."

Washington as a regular passenger and as he traveled across the East during the first part of the campaign.

Regardless of the outcome of election, the Senator faces a regular job at Washington. He is Republican leader of the Senate. Whether he will immediately give up this post and resign his seat in the Senate if elected to the Vice-Presidency has not been decided by Curtis nor will he indicate any decision on that, if he has reached any, until after election.

Because of the almost equal party division in the Senate, it is believed strong pressure will be applied on Curtis by the administration to have him continue his post as leader through the approaching short session, the last session of this Congress. However, the nominee has not indicated in the slightest his views on this situation and if elected Vice-President it is believed he will withhold a decision until he has conferred with President Coolidge and administration leaders.

When he reached a finger severely injured in an automobile door at Lawton, Okla., last month, the Senator lost the use of the right hand, but he immediately put the left into action and kept on shaking hands everywhere he went. The finger is about healed, but it healed slowly, with enthalasms occasionally wounding it by grabbing the nominee's hand.

Reaching Toledo early this morning from Wichita where he officially concluded his speaking tour last night, the nominee declined the luxurious private car which was placed at his disposal by the Republican National Committee about mid-campaign. He will go on to

Regardless of the outcome of election, the Senator faces a regular job at Washington. He is Republican leader of the Senate. Whether he will immediately give up this post and resign his seat in the Senate if elected to the Vice-Presidency has not been decided by Curtis nor will he indicate any decision on that, if he has reached any, until after election.

Because of the almost equal party division in the Senate, it is believed strong pressure will be applied on Curtis by the administration to have him continue his post as leader through the approaching short session, the last session of this Congress. However, the nominee has not indicated in the slightest his views on this situation and if elected Vice-President it is believed he will withhold a decision until he has conferred with President Coolidge and administration leaders.

POLITICAL PARSONS DEFENDED

Christian Herald Editor Answers Criticisms by Pointing to Colonial Days

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (Exclusive) Those clergymen who in the present campaign have been characterized as "political parsons" because of the discussion by them from their pulpits of the prohibition issue as it relates to the present campaign are vigorously defended in their actions by Dr. Daniel A. Poling, pastor of the Marble Collegiate Church of New York City, in a statement issued through the continuation committee of the National Conference on Prohibition Enforcement, of which he is chairman. He meets this characterization of such clergymen with the cryptic comment, "Let it be so."

Dr. Poling, who also is president of the International Christian Endeavor Union and editor of the Christian Herald, referring to criticism of such preachers by a United States Senator, hurled a challenge at those who would condemn such action upon the part of these clergymen at this time.

Adding that the colonial preachers and priests who, with their prayers and sermons sent the ragged continentals into battle, were political persons, Dr. Poling asserted that those of like character who followed after the early leaders, while recognizing their own fallibility, "avoided one mistake that would have been fatal, the mistake of not championing the truth as they believed it."

Gains in Senate by Republicans Called Certain

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—G. Brooks Fry, secretary of the Republican Senatorial Committee, in a statement today, predicted the next United States Senate will have an increased Republican majority of at least sixteen.

"There is no doubt that every Republican Senator up for election will win," Mr. Fry said.

"While we know we are going to win a large number of Senate seats," he declared, "the committee cannot too strongly stress the importance of all friends of Mr. Hoover also casting their votes for a Republican Congress."

Pastor Predicts Defeat of Smith

Asserting that Alfred E. Smith is "in for the greatest beating any Presidential candidate ever had," and that this result can be credited to good work done by men and women of the churches, Rev. George G. Dwyer, director of the Church Loyalty Crusade, addressed a meeting of men's class leaders yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist Church. Dr. Isaac Ward presided. This was one of the gatherings held in 250 churches in observance of "Olive Day" in the Loyalty Crusade.

BYRD SHIP DUE AT WELLINGTON

Civic Welcome Awaits Explorers Today

Attendant Craft Arrive After 15th Inst.

Huge School of Albatross Follow Voyagers

WITH BYRD SOUTH POLE ANTARCTIC EXPEDITION ABOARD THE C. A. LARSEN, Sunday, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—The whaler Larsen bearing Commander Byrd with his companions will arrive at Wellington, N. Z., tomorrow morning. Yesterday was the 2nd inst., but tonight we lost a day, and today is the 4th inst. Saturday disappearing from our calendar not to be picked up again until we cross the line somewhere south of New Zealand. The same thing will happen coming out.

Not the least amusing oddity of time is that the expedition will have four summers and one winter in the two years. When we left home it was the end of summer. We are now in the southern summer. Then will come a long winter and the southern summer and when we arrive home it will be the beginning of another summer.

WELCOME AWAITED
The ship will probably arrive at Wellington by Monday morning and Commander Byrd has received word of a civic welcome awaiting him and a luncheon given by the Chamber of Commerce. He will have time to accept only official invitations, as there is much work necessary before he leaves for the Antarctic.

The Eleanor Bolling will probably arrive on the 15th inst., and the City of New York a week later. The City of New York probably will be the first to start from here as she is best able to resist the ice and the Eleanor Bolling will follow when the ice begins to rot. Every thing depends, however, on the ice conditions and the peculiarities of another summer.

Man Finds Roman Bath

HAVANT (Eng.) Nov. 4. (P)—Observing that the fruit trees in his garden were not doing well, W. Adams dug around to ascertain the reason. He unearthed a Roman bath and other interesting objects which led him to make further search.

the season, as every year is different. Today the pilots have been interested in the evolutions of huge albatrosses, thirty of which have been following the ship. The huge birds with wing spread of ten feet or more bank beautifully in a strong wind, climb in chandelies with a grace to make the human flyers envious and coast along with the ship even with the deck and almost touching it without beating their wings. While, silent and beautiful, they pass by without apparent effort flying directly into the wind on a level keel.

"Boy, I wish I could fly like that," said Parker, known as a stunt pilot. Two whales blowing this morning excited the interest of everybody including the whaler's gunners who began to feel they were near their hunting ground.

Everybody aboard is well and glad to be approaching the more serious part of the work. The only disappointed ones are the stowaways who present a maritime problem. Generally stowaways are returned to the port of embarkation but the C. A. Larsen will not return to San Pedro this year. They wanted to go whaling. But their kind of experience makes them useless. Probably they will be turned over to the consul. Commander Byrd bought them outfits of decent clothes today as they were ragged.

ACCORD NEARER ON DAWES NOTE

Allied Diplomats Confer on Replies to Germany

Compromise Reported Over Use of "Independent"

France to Set Minimum in Reparations Demand

PARIS, Nov. 4. (P)—The efforts of the Allied governments to reach identical terms their replies to Germany's note on the constitution of a committee to discuss revision of the Dawes plan for reparation payments occupied a busy day here. The fact that it was Sunday failed to halt the activities of the statesmen and diplomats who have been engaged in the negotiations for the past week.

Premier Poincare conferred with the Belgian and Japanese Ambassadors and at various times since Saturday noon he also has talked with S. Parker Gilbert, the American who is agent-general for reparations; Sig. Pirelli of Italy; Ambassador Von Hoesch of Germany, and Sir William Tyrrell, British Ambassador. Despite attempts to keep proceedings in the closest secrecy, it is understood that a compromise has been reached concerning the interpretation of "independent" as applied to members of the committee, on which the French and German viewpoints had been reported at variance. Poincare is said to have yielded to the extent of abandoning his idea of appointing government functionaries to the committee, although he is understood to be adamant in providing the experts with instructions on the minimum demands of France, below which they would be unable to treat or bind the French government. This position is said to be acceptable to the others.

ITALY OBSERVES ARMISTICE DAY

Veterans and War Cripples March in Parades

King Dedicates Memorial to Wounded at Rome

Mussolini Pays Tribute to All Who Fought

ROME, Nov. 4. (P)—All Italy today celebrated the tenth anniversary of her armistice day and her victory over Austria in the battle of Vittorio Veneto. Enthusiasm was nowhere greater than in Rome, where 70,000 veterans and war cripples took part in the parades and exercises.

From the early hours of the morning the streets rang with the music of patriotic hymns. At 9 a.m. King Victor Emmanuel dedicated the "mother house of the war wounded" as a permanent memorial to their sacrifice. Then came the parade in the piazza Venezia along streets lined with Fascist associations and organizations and with airplanes roaring overhead.

Speaking from the balcony of the palace overlooking the square, Premier Mussolini paid tribute to those who fought for Italy in the World War, those who stood before him and those who were returned from the battle fields. At the conclusion of his speech he asked "if it is necessary, will you do tomorrow what you have done today, what we did together, yesterday?"

The immense throng of veterans raised their arms in Roman salute, waved their banners and replied with a resounding "Yes!" In the early evening Roman citizens of all classes joined in a tribute to their King. They massed in the big square in front of the Quirinal Palace, on the hill of that name, until the King and Queen had twice appeared on the balcony in response to their ringing cheers. With the rulers appeared Secretary Turati of the Fascist party and Deputy Del Croci, who was blinded in the war. King Victor Emmanuel smiled on his subjects as he saluted in response to their repeated cheers. Premier Mussolini in his address

Every Year Guard Climbs 559,806 Steps

LONDON, Nov. 4. (P)—One of the healthiest men in London is the guide and caretaker of the monument which stands at the city end of London Bridge.

There are 311 steps to the top of the monument and the guide ascends and descends in the morning, at lunch and at closing time. This works out at 11,196 steps weekly, or 559,806 a year, allowing for two weeks' holiday.

The only comment he makes when questioned as to whether he likes it, "Mountaineering is not one of my hobbies."

to the veterans said the celebration today had no need of words. He reminded them that the war was not imposed on the people of Italy by a sudden aggression, but that they entered it with the Allies deliberately at the call of their consciences. The Italian campaign, particularly during the early days, was at once terrible and sublime because of its casualties: 600,000 dead, 400,000 crippled and 1,000,000 wounded.

"One can assert," he said, "that more than 2,000,000 Italians poured out their blood to give birth to this which has arisen from their sacrifice—a new Italy."

The Premier said that while it is true the Allies sent some divisions to Italy, it also is true that in May, 1918, she had given the Allies her entire army. "After our great victory," he went on, "there was a period of uncertainty during which we suffered greatly, but men came who set the flag of victory in a strong hand, and in October, 1922, victory was redeemed for all time."

From the war and the revolution of the "black shirts," he concluded, there emerged at last from the Alps to Sicily a single people, one in spirit and discipline, to make great and more powerful the country.

WHITE-COLLAR PAY STILL LAGS

Clerical Workers Suffer by Comparison With Labor

Industrial Conference Board Gives Survey Findings

Figures on Cost of Living Also Included in Report

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—White-collar workers still are taking it on the chin in the matter of wages, as compared to those of laboring men, according to a survey made public today by the National Industrial Conference Board.

The average weekly earnings of industrial workers during 1927 were approximately 117 per cent above those in 1914, while clerical salaries on the average were about 74 per cent above the pre-war level.

On the other hand, the cost of living during last year averaged approximately 64 per cent above the 1914 level, a smaller increase than that of either wages or clerical salaries. But, the conference board points out, the cost of living index is based on a budget believed to cover goods and services necessary to maintain a fair standard of living for factory wage earners, as of 1914. The standard of living of clerical workers usually differs from that of industrial workers and generally requires larger expenditures in certain respects, as for instance, for clothing and rent. The respective relationship of clerical salaries and wages to the cost of living index therefore gives only an approximate picture of the relative economic status of clerical workers.

At no time during and since the war have office salaries undergone such spectacular fluctuations as have wages, according to the analysis. In the post-war inflation year, 1920, when wages reached their peak, which was approximately 135 per cent above the 1914 level, clerical salaries had risen only about 85 per cent or had barely kept pace with the increase in living costs.

STATEMENT OF CONDITION as of October 31, 1928

Reading financial statements is a good habit. A financial institution can offer no more conclusive evidence of its fitness as a custodian of your funds than to publish and explain in simple language the figures that reflect its stability and strength.

We commend, therefore, this Statement of Condition to the critical examination of cautious savers. We call especial attention to the outstanding elements of strength displayed therein, the result of self-imposed restrictions above and beyond the stringent state laws governing this institution.

By marking each State Democratic or Republican in the ballot on the left, the reader will be able to predict to his own satisfaction the result of the election on Nov. 6

The popular vote in 1924 was: Coolidge (Rep.), 15,725,016; Davis (Dem.), 8,886,503; La Follette (Ind.), 4,832,354.

A candidate with the greater popular vote may be defeated. In 1876 Tilden (Dem.) received 4,300,990 votes against 4,036,386 for Hayes (Rep.), but was defeated by one vote in the Electoral College.

In 1888 Cleveland (Dem.) had 5,540,229 votes to 5,439,883 for Harrison (Rep.), but Harrison was elected by an electoral vote of 233 to 168.

In 1912 Wilson (Dem.) received 6,286,214 votes, while Taft (Rep.) and Roosevelt (Ind.) combined received 7,600,942 votes, but Wilson won by an electoral vote of 435 to 96.

It would be possible for a candidate to get a popular vote of 17,000,000 to his opponent's 8,000,000 and yet be defeated by one vote in the Electoral College.

MEXICAN WIZARD IN TOILS

Downfall Comes When Guarantee to Effect Cure Fails and Woman Complains to Police

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4. (Exclusive).—A "wizard" who practiced all the tricks of the magicians of the Middle Ages, according to the police, and specialized in love sickness, plain, ordinary infirmities and matrimonial disputes and loved exceedingly rich by so doing, is in the toils in Mazatlan, according to a dispatch to El Universal of this city from that place. The wise man was captured in a room, mysteriously appointed and equipped with all the charms and devices of a magician of the Dark Ages, according to the report. He was arrested on a charge of fraud.

The downfall of this "wizard" came about when a woman complained to the police that the man, Edmundo de la Vega, had failed to cure her sister who had been ill for five months, although he had been paid a considerable sum of money for guaranteeing that he would restore the girl to perfect health. De la Vega, the police of Mazatlan say, had more patients than the best physicians in the city and his income far exceeded that of the most prominent legitimate practitioner.

The stock in trade of this "wizard" appears to have been his ability to make a small portion of each which goes to the Kamo Temple to be used in the brewing of ceremonial wine, black from the field of the south-east, white from the northeastern harvest.

About the middle of August, ground was broken within the precincts of the Imperial Sento Palace in Kyoto for the erection of the Daijosi—Grand—Thanksgiving—Hall. A large open space was first surrounded with a rough brushwood fence and within it four buildings were commenced.

Two of these, the Yuki-den and Suki-den, corresponding to the two rice fields, consist of two chambers each, an outer and inner shrine. A third houses the chamber of purification and the fourth is an annex for the accommodation of the Emperor and her ladies during the main ceremony and the storage of the sacred implements used in the Thanksgiving.

Scrupulous care is exercised in the erection of these sanctuaries, although, in conformance to the imperial custom, they are built on lines so simple that they border on the rude. Specially selected workmen are chosen for the task and while at work are dressed in pure white garments which are changed the moment they show any sign of dirt. Should one of them sustain the slightest wound and stain the materials with the tiniest drop of blood, that piece is immediately condemned and discarded. On serving their purpose, after November 15, the Daijosi Halls are solemnly burned.

After sundown in the evening of November 14, the Emperor repairs in state to the Thanksgiving Hall and after several minor ceremonies, designed to prepare his mind for the impressive rites to follow, prepares for the purification and Feast of the Great Feast.

Timber Fires Will Be Shown Through Films

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4. (AP).—Recognizing the wisdom of the old saying that knowledge dispels most demons, the State Department of Forestry today announced the inauguration of a campaign against the fire bogle which will be carried directly into the schools of California.

Motion pictures, lectures and demonstrations will be used in implanting the "Be Careful With Fires" message into the youthful mind. "What Price Fire," a spectacular motion picture produced by the United States Forest Service, with its locale at the Klamath National Forest and most of its actors residents of Siskiyou county, will be used in the campaign.

The film, which has already been shown to some 12,000 people in Northern California, depicts vividly the terrible toll taken by fire, showing scenes from actual fires in northern woods and follow-up "shots" of gutted areas left in their wakes.

Clad thus he enters the purification chamber to have the cleansing water poured over him. For this he seats himself in a broad shallow bath arranged so that he is not visible to any eye whilst undergoing his purification.

Emerging from this ordeal the Emperor is joined by his attendants and, in imposing procession, crosses to the Yuki-den.

SACRED TREASURES
Close to the imperial person are carried the sacred treasures: the Mirror, the Sword and the Neck-lace, exposed for once to view and, on their knees before and behind attendants unroll and roll again the strip of matting upon which only the feet of the Emperor may tread.

In the meantime to Shinto music and in ancient vessels the rice, millet, seaweed, fish and wine have been placed upon the altar in the outer chamber of the Yuki-den.

Through the adoring worshippers the Emperor proceeds to the altar, makes his obeisances and then, alone, proceeds into the utter darkness of the inner sanctum. Here he communizes with the spirits of his ancestors, makes his report as to the state of his heritage and his fitness to carry on their line and then proceeds back to the altar and tastes of the offerings.

SECOND PURIFICATION
The ceremony in the Yuki-den is followed by a second purification, solemn progress and service in the Suki-den, similar in every detail to the first. This is timed to reach its conclusion as the sun rises, and the final return to the chamber of purification which ends the night's work is made with the national emblem, the rising sun, in person adding his warmth and glory to the occasion.

STATE PLANS TO INTRODUCE JUJUBES

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4. (AP).—Ju-jubes. Never hear of them? You're likely to if plans of the State Department of Agriculture are carried out. The jujube is a Chinese fruit, date-like in appearance, and in flavor a cross between a date and a lichee nut. It is very juicy and preserves its flavor well after drying. There seems to be no reason why they can not be grown in California in commercial quantities, Director G. H. Hecke said. The samples were sent the department from the United States plant introductory garden at Chico.

LOS ANGELES BOY IN COLLEGE ROMANCE

BERKELEY, Nov. 4. (Exclusive).—A college romance featuring Miss Annette Keesee, 22 years of age, registered as a senior at the University of California from Los Angeles, and Ralph D. Miller, 22, senior registered from Santa Rosa, was disclosed with their application for a marriage license at Martinez, Contra Costa county. Neither would give the date of the impending ceremony.

Examinations for Clerks in State Offices

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4. (AP).—Anticipating the need for clerks by the Division of Motor Vehicles during the annual renewal rush, the State Civil Service Commission has announced that an examination will be given Saturday, November 17 to provide eligibles for such positions.

The principal need is for persons between the ages of 18 and 36 who are willing to accept temporary work at $60 to $80 a month. However, those who make good while temporarily employed may qualify for a permanent position in any of the State departments.

Applications must be filed with the State Civil Service Commission, 331 Forum Building (Sacramento) before Saturday, November 10, 1928.

Examination for these positions will be given in Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles, and in San Diego and Fresno if the number of applicants in the two latter cities is sufficient to warrant.

ROYALTY IN SWEDEN SEES O'NEILL PLAY

STOCKHOLM (Sweden) Nov. 4. (AP).—The Crown Prince and Princess, with Princess Ingrid, headed the brilliant audience which last night saw the European performance of Eugene O'Neill's "Strange Interlude" given in the Royal Dramatic Theater.

There was a large representation of diplomats, including Minister Le-lund Harrison and the staff of the United States Legation. The Swedish translation is by Mrs. Elsa Trolle.

FIRE CODE CHANGED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. Use of the basements of large buildings as public garages was advocated.

Industries of State Holding Injuries Down

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4. (AP).—There were 268,600 industrial injuries in California in 1927, of which 714 were fatal. It was reported at the October Governor's council by Will French, director of the State Department of Industrial relations.

The 714 fatalities were compared with 748 deaths in 1926, a decrease of 4.5 per cent. French pointed out, although the State's population had its normal increase of approximately 5 per cent.

The statistics also showed that permanent injuries, the second most important entry in the report, showed a decrease of 8 per cent. Temporary injuries decreased 6.3 per cent, and no-disability cases increased 7 per cent. The encouraging slump in the grim totals was attributed by French to a growing awareness and use of modern safety methods.

HUGE ELECTRIC ROTORS TAKE THREE TRACKS FOR SHIPMENT

ALBANY (N. Y.) Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—New York City marine contractors on Tuesday will lift onto barges at South Albany what are said to be the largest and heaviest pieces of electric equipment ever transported. The pieces are two huge rotors for two frequency changers to be installed at the waterside generation stations of the New York Edison Company. Each weighing 113 tons, they were shipped today the month and killing frost occurred in Northwestern Texas, in Oklahoma and in Northwestern Arkansas. Heavy frosts occurred in north central districts of the belt. The crop appears to have improved in Mississippi Valley States. There was deterioration in the eastern belt, with Texas and Oklahoma holding their own. Favorable weather enabled Ala-from the Schoenectady plant of the General Electric Company over the Delaware and Hudson Railroad to South Albany, the railroad opening up for the shipment the exclusive use of three tracks abreast. This unusual arrangement, possible only on a Sunday, was necessitated by the enormous size of the rotors, which extended well over the one track, tracks on either side being kept open for clearance.

bama, Georgia and the Carolinas to make good progress in catching up with their ginnings, which were exceptionally backward owing partly to lateness, but mostly to unfavorable weather for picking during September. They still are behind. Harvesting is well advanced in other States. Berlin has a rush of tourists.

EXPORTS ATTAIN NEW HIGH MARK

Value for Nine Months $3,563,000,000

Principal Portion Output of Factories

Merchandising Methods Given Credit

(Copyright, 1928, by The North American Review, Inc.) NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—The United States made an enviable showing for the first nine months of this year in both the volume and value of its export trade, says the National Foreign Trade Council, in a report on the 1928 foreign trade, made public today. In volume the all-time record is broken, while in value, the record exceeds any like period since 1921.

During this nine-month period $3,563,000,000 worth of goods were exported, and 73 per cent of this amount—another record—represents goods wholly or partly manufactured. About one-fifth of these manufactured goods went to Latin America, where, by the way, the United States is now selling more than its three leading competitors—England, France and Germany—combined; and where it is now the leading exporter of foreign goods to every one of the twenty republics south of the Rio Grande.

In manufactured goods, valued at more than $2,800,000,000, the records exceed by more than $50,000,000 its entire exports for the year 1927 of raw and manufactured goods combined, and exceed the exports of all commodities from any other nation than Great Britain, for the whole of 1927.

AUTO TRADE GAINS. Automotive manufacturers contribute 14 per cent of the total foreign trade, another record. This industry, more and more, scores on foreign trade, exported $425,000,000 worth of automotive manufactures of all kinds—an increase of 16 per cent over the preceding fiscal year and 1500 per cent in excess of the average of the four years before the war.

Next to Canada, Argentina leads as the largest American automotive consumer in the world. This nation took almost $50,000,000 worth of these goods, or more than America's total export of automobiles and motor trucks to the entire world for the year 1927.

Another notable advance was made in the field of industrial machinery, which increased its export trade 10 per cent during the year. The items are mining, oil and construction working machinery, engines and locomotives. Briefly, this industry accounted for 6 per cent of our manufactured exports, with a total in value of $210,000,000.

Agricultural machinery goes ahead with an increase of 28 per cent in the last fiscal year over the preceding one, and total sales reached $182,000,000.

To many it will be surprising to know that the machinery and supplies—such as minor items—like typewriters, cash registers, adding machines, etc., gained 20 per cent during the last fiscal year, with a record sale of over $44,000,000. For the first time, this item stands among the twenty leading exports of the United States.

Electrical equipment machinery increased 5 per cent over the last fiscal year, with total sales of about $87,000,000.

COTTON MOVES AHEAD. Manufactured cotton, supposed to be on the slide, likewise moved ahead with a 9 per cent increase over the last fiscal year, with total sales amounting to over $135,000,000.

The United States foreign trade is growing, according to the National Foreign Trade Council, because active American merchandising methods are responsible for the expansion of manufactured goods from average of three-fifths of all of its exports for the four years immediately before the war, to almost three-fourths of the total for the first nine months of this year. Canada buys from the United States $91.40 per capita per year, based on the first six months' record of this year. This is the largest per capita from any nation to a single supplier.

America's five principal competitors—Canada, United Kingdom, Germany, Japan and France—bought more than one-half of all of her exports during the year 1927, and supplied the United States with 38.4 per cent of her imports.

IMPORTS COST LESS. American imports for the fiscal year were $627,000,000 less than American exports, or $4,146,000,000. This is a reduction of $19,000,000 from the preceding fiscal year, chiefly owing to drop in prices on such important articles as rubber, tin and silk.

All of which shows that in the years to come the farmers of the United States will have no problem of "farm surplus" to bother them, as they have now. Then all American farm products will likely be consumed within the confines of the United States.

ONE DEAD, TWO HURT WHEN PLANE DIVES

KEENE (N. H.) Nov. 4. (P)—An 18-year-old boy airplane passenger was fatally injured and a pilot and another boy passenger were less seriously hurt here today when a commercial biplane nose dived to the flying-field of the Granite State Flying School. Raymond Smith of Royalston, Mass., died while being taken to a hospital in an automobile. Alfred Burnham of Hartford, Ct., the pilot, and Joseph Seymour, 12, of this city, a second passenger, each suffered a broken leg and other injuries.

PAPERS OF DENVER CUT BY MERGER

Rivals Buy and Sell to Leave But One Morning, One Evening Publication

DENVER, Nov. 4. (P)—P. O. Bonilla, publisher of the Denver Morning Post and the Denver Post, announced tonight that the Denver Post has purchased the Denver Evening News and has sold the Rocky Mountain News.

Tomorrow morning will be the last issue which will be published by the Denver Morning Post and tomorrow afternoon's issue will be the last published by the Denver Evening News. The negotiations for the merger of the four Denver newspapers into two—one evening and one morning—were brought to a termination this afternoon by Roy Howard of the Scripps-Howard organization, which owns the Rocky Mountain News and the Denver Evening News, and F. C. Bonilla.

The Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News will continue as separate and distinct publications under absolutely different ownerships and having no connections whatever, the announcement says. Mr. Bonilla will continue to publish the Post and the Scripps-Howard organization will go on publishing the Rocky Mountain News. No announcement of the amount of money involved in the transaction was made.

Many Jails in State Found to Be in Bad Odor

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4. (P)—Although so perceptible low in patronage has resulted, conditions in several California jails are such as to render the institutions almost uninhabitable, Mrs. Anna L. Baylor, head of the State Department of Social Welfare, reported at the October meeting of the Governor's Council.

In two counties she has visited recently, Mrs. Baylor said, overcrowding and general lack of sanitation have brought about a state she described as "filthy."

Modern ocean transportation has no finer example than this new liner—the S.S. Virginia. No time or effort has been spared to make her the last word in traveling comfort and luxury. She and her sister ship, the California, are the largest steamers ever built under the American flag. Her interiors of early American inspiration reflect a quiet charm. All her staterooms are outside—each with running hot and cold water—over a hundred with private bath. The outdoor life on board is made particularly fascinating by the variety of recreations she offers. Broad, beautiful decks for promenading, dancing, deck golf, tennis and shuffle board. Two built-in, open air swimming pools. Gymnasium. A garden where the delights of a Panama Pacific cuisine are doubly appreciated.

CAMP DEFEATS RED MORRISON

Belmont Park Pro Cops by Two Strokes

His Title Captured at Brentwood in 1927

Rich Star Puts Up Stiff Battle Throughout

EDWARD LAWRENCE "Willie" Hunter is still the best champion of Southern California.

Britain's former amateur champion, now professional at the Montebello Park Golf Club, successfully defended his title against Fred Morrison, driving midweek pro, in the thirty-six-hole play-off at Sunset Fields yesterday. "Wee Willie" won by a narrow two-stroke margin.

With a 76-73-149, Morrison, however, proved no setback for the large gallery and received a run for their money off at 9:30, both Morrison and Hunter were slow in getting up and rounded the hole with a pair of 39's, over par. "Wee Willie" led on the finish as usual, but over par on the six hole, he picked up a 4 on the long seventh and on the eighth and for his 38.

MORRISON PICKS UP

Second eighteen proved to be the stiffest nip and tuck and golf matches seen on a course for some time.

Morrison started the afternoon with a bang, driving a birdie 3 on the 415-yard ninth hole. They took on the twentieth and "Wee Willie" unsundered twenty-second hole he had dropping third on the short of the pin. He needed to sink a six-foot putt for a birdie 5, put against Morrison took a 4. The short twenty-third hole he gave him a par. "Wee Willie" was still three on the twenty-fourth, when he put for a birdie 2, took a 4 to Morrison's 4 on

This project is up over the hills to the north of the Seacliff field and is fully half a mile inland from Muscle Rock where the Petroleum Exploration Company is carrying on a deep test for five companies. Nothing of importance has been found at Muscle Rock, and geologists are beginning to think that if there is a structure in that vicinity.

The Elmer discovery has disturbing possibilities, for the reason that it is on Rincon Investment Company lands, adjoining parcels of which are under lease to the Associated and Shell organizations, through which, it is expected, would have to start offset wells at an early date if Elmer should develop commercial quantities of oil.

production. The Rancon Investment Company consists of a group of fifty or sixty Ventura business and professional men. The Elmer outfit holds 100 acres of the lands in question.

PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulder droop under weight of years. Young yet beauty has fled. Cheeks as yellow and drawn. Slightly pimple. Keep your youth clean and you keep the beauty of youth. Its energy. Its irresistible charm. This life is not a failure.

Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to seep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets will save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous griping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you.

Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Call them by their true name. 15c, 30c, 60c.—(Advertisement.)

RHEUMATIC NEURITIS

"Frank's Prescription is designed to relieve your trouble quickly without hurting. It doesn't ruin the stomach, nor depress the heart. Once prescribed, sleepless people from torturing pain now restfully to sleep. Mrs. W. E. McCallan of San Jose concisely explains: "I have been suffering from Rheumatic Neuritis for several years. At last leading druggists—(Advertisement.)" is it CALLOUSES?

Sufferers know only too well how callouses that form on the sole of the foot sap energy, strength and pleasure. Such callouses become frightfully and severely painful. But they can be eliminated... The famous Dr. A. Reed has designed the MOVABLE-ARCH shoe along new scientific principles to overcome just such foot ills. An auxiliary support for the delicate metatarsal arch, removable and adjustable to every condition, is the exclusive feature of these shoes and the secret of riddance from agonizing foot pains... Let us show them to you—in the many smart models of the season.

SUPPORT FOR 19-A PLEASES

Representation League Glad of Chamber Backing

Charter Amendment Will Better Council Status

New Election Method to Curb Vote Trading

Officers of the District Representation League yesterday expressed gratification for the endorsement of Charter Amendment No. 19-A by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber made an appeal to the voters of the city to support this measure, designed to give Los Angeles a better form of representative government.

CHANGES ELECTION METHOD

The amendment provides for a change in the method of electing Councilmen. Under the proposed plan the best features of district representation will be retained. Each Councilman will be elected by the voters of the district he represents and his nominating petition must be signed by electors of his district.

At the primary and final elections, however, he will be voted upon by the electors of the entire city. This makes Councilmen responsible to the entire city as well as to their own districts.

The proposal to amend the charter comes from a group of citizens representing every section of the city who are familiar with the dissatisfaction attendant to the present system and wish to eliminate its objections but retain its good features.

WILL STOP TRADING

Under the present plan, intense sectionalism is manifested, according to John W. Kemp, president of the District Representation League. He said that Councilmen, to obtain what their districts wish, trade votes with other Councilmen. This trading often results in wire pulling and log rolling, with the advantage going to the clever trader.

It was pointed out that under the prevailing plan there is no incentive for a Councilman to learn the needs of residents of any district but his own, although he is required to vote on matters affecting the entire city.

Consequently, it was stated, fourteen out of fifteen Councilmen, an overwhelming majority, hold the power over any single Councilman. Marshall Stinson is first vice-president, Dora A. Shearer second vice-president and Edna Porter Phillips, secretary of the District Representation League.

endorsement of practically all the county's organizations. A second proposition is a referendum on a zoning ordinance in the Sherman district.

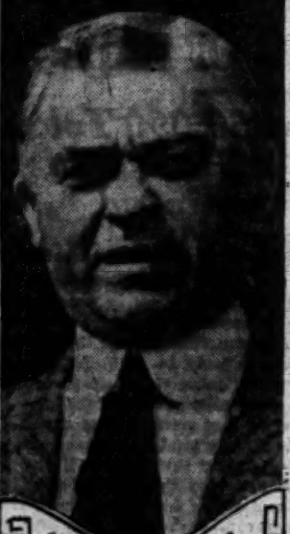

Twenty-one State propositions are on the ballot, many of them of great importance, while several are merely technical revisions of the State Constitution. The most important, probably, is Proposition No. 3, which is an equitable solution of the bank and intangible-tax muddle.

Combined with the State election is a special city election with twenty-one propositions. These propositions carry a designation to distinguish them from the State propositions, such as 19-A. The most important is a charter amendment which will permit a modified system of electing Councilmen at large, while retaining at the same time the best features of district representation. This is No. 19-A. The city also is called on to vote whether or not Los Angeles shall join in the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California and bring water from the Colorado River. This is designated Proposition B. Several other cities in Southern California will vote on the same measure.

Mrs. Nellie B. Stull of Ellyria, O., president and organizers of the Widows and Widowers' Club, has received more than 15,000 proposals of marriage.

William E. Tribitt Called by Death After Illness of Two Years' Duration

William E. Tribitt, for more than twenty years a member of The Times editorial staff, but for the past two years incapacitated for active duty by illness, died yesterday morning at his home at 1828 South Fourth street, Alhambra.

For many years prior to his illness Tribitt covered the county courts for The Times, and he had a long list of friends and acquaintances, many members of the legal profession and judges. The esteem in which he was held by all concerned with the office and court was tribute to the integrity and capability of one of the real old-timers of the newspaper field in Southern California.

He was one of the few survivors of the explosion which wrecked the original Times Building on October 1, 1910, and in which a score of persons lost their lives.

Prior to his connection with The Times he was managing editor of the Morning Republican at Chester, Pa. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Inez Tribitt, and a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Johnson of Alhambra. Funeral services will be arranged for and announced later. At present the body is at the Utter funeral parlors in Alhambra.

copies of the Jacobson letter were peddled to worshippers as they left their churches.

Mr. Porter said that a few days ago he received a letter from Councilman Jacobson on the subject of Councilman Shaw's votes on moral questions. At that time, said Mr. Porter, he paid the matter no special attention, and was astonished when he learned yesterday of the use put to it. The letter, he said, was not released by him to the Shaw headquarters, and expressed the opinion that it was obtained from Councilman Jacobson.

The letter, carrying with it the official seal of Los Angeles, is as follows:

My dear Mr. Porter: For your information I would like to state that during my term of office in the City Council I have at all times found Councilman Shaw with us on his vote on moral questions and I am satisfied that he believes in law enforcement. This, of course, can be proven by the Council records.

Very truly yours,
CARL J. JACOBSON, Councilman Thirteenth District

Board Chairman's Services to County Poured Out

Character and Training Said to Merit Votes Again

The record of Supervisor McClellan's twelve years in office is the most eloquent argument for his return to the Board of Supervisors in tomorrow's election, according to a statement issued by Arthur S. Bent, former president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

"The people of the Fourth Metropolitan District are stockholders in a $4,000,000 corporation," said Mr. Bent. "In a sense Supervisor McClellan is the general manager of this great business. It is inconceivable that the people would for a moment consider disposing of his services and broad experience in county affairs."

"The talents of Supervisor McClellan have been applied to the problems of Los Angeles county for the past twelve years. For eight years he has been chairman of the Board of Supervisors. During his incumbency Los Angeles county has experienced a tremendous growth and development. Despite the fact that this is the largest and fastest growing county in the United States, county improvements have not been hampered by the constantly increasing population."

TIMES' ELECTION SERVICE

A comprehensive and accurately organized election return service will be made available to residents of Southern California tomorrow by The Times.

Radio, loud-speaker and telephone will be used to disseminate the results. Beginning at 3 p.m. tomorrow, returns will be broadcast over radio KHS, the difference in time making eastern trends available at that hour.

The same time will also mark the beginning of the public-address service at The Times Building, First and Broadway.

Throughout the afternoon and evening returns from the nation, State and county will be broadcast; special and regular editions will carry down to the minute news from all parts of the country, and for those who do not have access to other sources of information a call to The Times-Metropolitan 6700—will bring the latest figures.

HIS ACHIEVEMENTS

"Supervisor McClellan's achievements include the following: He originated and founded the Regional Planning Commission, which is a model for metropolitan districts the country over. As a result of the functioning of this commission, every improvement laid down now in Los Angeles county is in accordance with a scientifically preconceived plan.

"He fathered the Big Pine camp playground, now nationally recognized as one of the outstanding recreational parks of the State. This cost the taxpayers only $22,000.

"He fostered and championed the great flood-control and water-reclamation program vital to the growth of the county and checking the extensive flow of silt into Los Angeles harbor.

"He organized and equipped thirty-two sheriff's substations throughout the county.

"He increased the scope of the county fire department and now maintains 157 branches with 300,000 volumes.

"When Mr. McClellan took office county funds were low. He saw to it that they were replenished. He saw to it that they were replenished. He saw to it that they were replenished.

cases, and that his voice was the first one raised in Los Angeles county to sound a warning against any weakening in the prosecution of law. When Judge Doran, at that time, criticized the District Attorney for his failure to prepare the Julian cases and to try them in such a way that justice might function, he was registering his warning that every part of the machinery of justice must function perfectly if society is to stand against the forces of crime.

"It was Judge Doran's voice that spoke the word in the Marco sentence, that threw the underworld into a frenzy of fear and a campaign of revenge. When Judge Doran sentenced the black baron of vice to the penitentiary it was a direct blow to the so-called powers of evil. It had been their franchise that he held, as he could under the law, either sentence Marco to the County Jail or dispose of his case with a fine.

UNDERWORLD THREATS

"But the jurist's voice rang like the knell of doom in a sentence that deprived Marco of further power in the underworld and that further threatened all future underworld bosses and agents with the iron hand of the law.

"Within the last chaotic year in Los Angeles, wherever there is a record of law and justice arrayed against vice or against any possible danger of crime, Judge Doran has been found guarding the law. He has been found with the spirit of the crusader, challenging any and every irregularity, or failure, or violation in the prosecution of law, fearlessly meeting out justice, undaunted by the venom of organized crime or of corrupt political machinery.

"Today we are struggling out of a confusion of chaotic conditions. We are in the grip of lawlessness—the terrible danger of public contempt for law—of the devastating possibilities of domination of our courts of law by the underworld.

"ELECT DORAN"

"It behooves patriots to organize their strength and register it on behalf of law and order, and in the maintenance of our courts, on election day. This can be done by insuring the re-election of Judge William C. Doran—the man whose voice has steadily sounded a demand for law and civic righteousness, the man who has stood out as a great champion of American ideals.

"He has done this modestly, unassuming, in the spirit of doing his duty as he sees it. To him it has been merely the fulfilling of the oath he took when he became a judge, to uphold the law. But to the public he has become a symbol of that law, and his re-election has become the foremost local issue of the campaign. Advocates of law enforcement and champions of civic righteousness unite with us in charging the public that the preservation of our courts of law, of our entire machinery of law, is synonymous with the re-election of Judge Doran next Tuesday.

cotton picking, although there has been some shortage of labor, according to Southern California Crops. Arizona will harvest 136,000 bales of cotton this season; New Mexico, 77,000, and Lower California, 59,000, or a total of 443,000 bales of cotton tributary to Los Angeles Harbor.

BEAN PRICES HIGH

Lima beans have reached the highest price levels in recent years, and with short crops of beans in all principal producing centers of the world, the outlook is for an extremely profitable season for the California bean growers, the report stated. Other types of beans are also bringing high return.

With most of the alfalfa hay crop cut and in storage, the price situation is strong, with choice hay selling in Los Angeles at $25 a ton, the highest price in several years. The prospects are that the price will see an increase in a few weeks.

The fall truck crop shipping season is still under way with lettuce and tomatoes holding the chief interest of the distributor. The Southern California tomato deal has been highly satisfactory, according to the chamber report, and the fall lettuce season will go down in history as the most profitable yet experienced.

The live-stock market fluctuated greatly during October, but closing prices at the Los Angeles Union Stockyards, with the exception of hogs, were higher than during the same period in 1927.

In closing the Chamber of Commerce report emphasized the fact that because of the wide diversity of agriculture in Southern California, its all-year-round income feature, and established marketing program, the southern counties have been able to maintain their high income record in a year that has not been especially favorable to agriculture in other sections of the country.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TO GET VOTE RESULT

Election returns by private leased wire feature to the ballroom will be the feature of an informal ball which will be held tomorrow night by Los Angeles Council No. 621, Knights of Columbus, in the auditorium of the K. of C. clubhouse at 614 South Flower street.

HOPKINS URGES TAX PLAN VOTE

Committee, in a statement issued yesterday, said:

"By all means the voters should approve Proposition No. 3 on the ballot Tuesday. Only by an affirmative vote will the tax situation in California be clarified. Today hundreds of newcomers here would immediately make California their legal residence if they were assured a fair tax on securities, which heretofore they have refused to list. The amendment places a fair tax on these so-called intangibles and this revenue will aid the local tax situation immediately."

Charles F. Gorman, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank pointed out that under the proposed amendment the tax burden would be more equally distributed and local taxation would be aided by the fair tax on intangibles.

C. J. Walker, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Long Beach and F. E. Hatch, senior vice-president of J. E. Hatch, vice-president of the Security National Trust and Savings Bank gave their endorsement of the measure.

James F. Collins, real estate broker of Long Beach and former officer of the American Legion, stated that unless the voters approve the measure he does not know what will be the outcome of conditions in California. I. M. Stevens, Long Beach, newly elected president of the Chamber of Commerce of that city also gave an unqualified support to the measure.

CARNAHAN EXPLAINS

Lieutenant-Governor Designate Carnahan, said:

"Amendment No. 3 is not a measure to increase taxes. Its purpose on one hand is to save the State some $22,000,000 in taxes on banks, and on the other hand to save taxpayers more than $50,000,000 upon a reassessment of taxes already paid by them in 1925, 1926 and 1927, and for which they may be held liable. If the proposed amendment should not be adopted by the people on Tuesday.

"The net result of this amendment must be that the State may continue to get a revenue from the banks; that taxes on other corporations, if changed in amount, will be slightly reduced; that the State can continue to exempt land mortgages and to tax intangibles at a low rate, which has been fixed at 3 mills, and can never be more than 4 mills. If adopted, it will keep what was in effect a public pledge made by the State in its declaration for taxes of these classes of securities."

"The proposed amendment was recommended unanimously in August by members of the California State Tax Commission to Gov. Young for adoption, and in special session the Legislature approved the measure."

"It is of such vital public importance that the State convention of the Republican party gave the amendment its consideration and endorsed it."

University Will Have Political Debate Tonight

The greatest organized political activity ever conducted on the campus of the University of Southern California will end tonight with a debate in which Stanford and U.S.C. debaters will argue the merits of the Presidential candidates. The debate, which will take place in Board Hall, is being conducted under the joint auspices of the Al Smith Club and the Hoover Club of the local university.

Upholding the banner of Democracy will be Charles J. Wright of U.S.C. and S. Rosenblatt of Stanford, while the G.O.P. and its candidates will be represented by J. Leo Harris of U.S.C. and Robert McCintock of Stanford.

No judges will be selected to decide the winners, but after the debate slips of paper will be passed through the audience for the purpose of recording a straw vote on the audience's Presidential preferences after hearing the speakers. The debate is open to the public.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

One may expect the autumn season to gather gear rapidly from now on in Europe, particularly in Paris, according to word received from most of the continental capitals.

Those who did not make a point of returning to Paris for the opening of the motor show were found in the round-up at Longchamp to see the great Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe.

Though a creation of only eight years, this international event carries almost as much prestige as the June Grand Prix.

On the founding of this prize, the purse was only 150,000 francs, but it has attracted such an array of turf talent and distinguished spectators, that it has taken the position of a major sporting event carrying the formidable sum of more than 500,000 francs. Last year, the sensational Mon. Talleman made everyone happy by winning his race. Last week's event was not unlike that of last autumn in that the outstanding crack of the year, Kantar, took off the honors with his "grace habituelle." Ogden Mills thus won the two most prized events of the French turf, his Crie de Guerre, who was Kantar's running mate last week, having won the Grand Prix last June. Mr. Mills and his daughter, the Countess of Granard, who have been attending the races daily since the season opened, were not present last week, having called for America. With the perfect weather to make Longchamp appear at its best, the attendance did not yield in mundane brilliancy to anything seen there this year.

Many visitors from across the channel were seen in the frequent crowd and also many foreign automobile manufacturers; here for the show, among the latter being John M. Willys of the Willys-Overland Company, with Mrs. Willys and Alfred Sloan, president of the General Motors Corporation, with Mrs. Sloan. Others included Mrs. Charles R. Duval, nee Tobin of San Francisco; Comte and Comtesse de Laugier-Villars and the latter's mother, Mrs. Edward Steinbrugg, Mrs. George Munroe and her daughter, Mrs. Berry Wall, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Strassburger of Morrisville, Pa., and Jack Stern, who had entries in two races.

The Sunday night dance and dinner at the Hotel Ritz, following the races, also was a brilliant affair. The Crown Prince of Mysore entertained Capt. and Mrs. William Waters and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Connelo Natanson. Mrs. Clarence Mulhiser had four guests.

Last week, many of our compatriots were seen in the gatherings at Ciro's restaurant in Paris. Mr. and Mrs. Frank L'Array, who are staying at the Hotel Lott, were to a party which included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mitchell of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Turner of Carmel-by-the-Sea, who are motoring through Italy, were recent guests of the Excelsior Hotel in Rome.

Mrs. Janet Buchanan and Mrs. Marion Gray of Pasadena have been visiting in Aix-les-Bains, France, as guests of the Hotel Beau-Site.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen P. Churchill and daughter Elizabeth Ann, who have been passing some time in Switzerland this fall, were recent arrivals in Lausanne, where they stopped at the Hotel Beau-Rivage.

Mrs. P. MacCune Naylor of California, Cal., has been stopping at the same hotel.

Flach Fisher was seen in Wiesbaden, Germany, during the fortnight, staying at the Hotel Rose. Mr. and Mrs. Livingstone Fairbanks of Chicago, who recently returned to their Paris apartment from Biarritz, France, entertained a party of fourteen at the Perquet last week. Among their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Chaffield Taylor of Santa Barbara.

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cooking in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

*****

CHEF WYMAN'S SUGGESTIONS

*****

Breakfast

Casaba Spanish Omelet Bananas Marmalade Coffee

Luncheon

Noodles and Ham Cress and Green Pepper Salad Iced Grapes Fresh Punch

Dinner

Tomato Soup with Ripe Olives Veal Croquettes Potato Cakes Green Peas Cucumber and Radish Salad Fruit Platters Coffee

BANANA MARMALADE

Peel and cut in rounds firm ripe bananas, there should be three pounds of peeled bananas; place the bananas in an earthenware bowl, add the grated rind and strained juice of three lemons and three pounds of lump sugar; cover and let stand until the sugar is dissolved. Pour into a preserving kettle, bring slowly to a boil stirring three or four times, then boil quickly until thick. Pour into hot glasses and seal.

NOODLES AND HAM

Cut four thin slices of raw ham into narrow strips, place in a frying pan and cook until crisp; add half a pound of noodles that have been boiled until tender in boiling salted water and fry until lightly browned. Sprinkle with finely chopped parsley and pimiento and serve.

VEAL CROQUETTES

Run three cups of cooked veal through the fine knife of the meat chopper with one and a half cups of raw ham, and place in a bowl; add the yolks of three hard-boiled eggs rubbed through a sieve, one tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley, and a seasoning of pepper, form into twelve croquettes, roll in flour, dip in beaten egg, roll in fine cracker crumbs and fry in deep, hot vegetable shortening. Drain, set on a platter covered with cream sauce, sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

In Case You Slip

A piece of cardboard cut with a circle in the middle to fit around the doorbell or speaking tube when cleaning and polishing will prove a great protection to the surrounding woodwork.

Solled Rubber

Any rubber articles that may become soiled and sticky should be cleaned with a solution of household ammonia and warm water. This will clean and at the same time keep the rubber soft and pliable.

Clean Brushes

If hairbrushes were washed more often one's hair would require fewer washings and have a better sheen to it besides. Once a week is not too often to wash one's hairbrush, using a basin of hot water, to which a little ammonia has been added.

An Oily Skin

A formula that the person whose skin is very oily will find interlarding with a little orange flower water, one-half ounce tincture of benzoin, two ounces witch hazel. Mix each hazel and orange flower water and add to the tincture of benzoin. Apply to freshly washed face with absorbent cotton night and morning.

BLOW FOR PASADENA

D. W. Coyle Ruled in Contempt Under Alimony Order

David W. Coyle, Pasadena capitalist, committed contempt of court by failing to pay $200 due his wife, Annie B. Coyle, under an alimony order, according to a ruling entered by Judge Rosenkrantz in Mrs. Coyle's divorce action.

Mrs. Coyle obtained a divorce several months ago. In addition to monthly alimony she was awarded one-half of a $20,000 account owned to Coyle by the city. She never received that, either, according to her attorney, George S. Carter. Coyle explained that he had refused to cash the city's voucher pending the outcome of certain litigation.

Judge Rosenkrantz ordered that unless the alimony arrearage be paid forthwith Coyle will be sent to jail, and that the $20,000 city voucher be impounded, and the proceeds divided equally at the conclusion of the litigation.

In one of the outfitting stores in Essen, Germany, not one of the 150 girls employed there wear their hair bobbed or shingled.

Nothing equals women's natural beauty or the radiance of girlhood's glowing freshness.

Today, at forty women are not as old-looking as they were a few years back. And complexion once deepened of are regaining former loveliness.

The secret is a simple home beauty treatment. Follow it night and morning and your skin will keep its natural loveliness. Follow these directions:

First, work up a lather of the palm and olive oils embodied in Palmolive Soap. Massage them into the skin with your two hands until they penetrate and gently cleanse the pores of powder, rouge and dirt. Then rinse first with warm water, then with cold. Do this daily without fail.

Women by the thousands will tell you it is the best way they know to prevent blackheads, blemishes, enlarged pores and common skin faults.

Note the natural glow of girlhood days that follows its use. Use only Palmolive—a soap made for one purpose—to safeguard good complexion. 10 cents, everywhere. Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, Ill.

More Hospital Service Asked by Port Cities

City officials of Long Beach and representatives of Wilmington and San Pedro will appear before the Board of Supervisors today to request that a limited number of patients from the harbor districts be treated at hospitals in that vicinity, at the expense of the General Hospital assessment.

From Long Beach, it will be pointed out, $270,000 is raised by the General Hospital assessment levy, yet that city receives only $30,000 of hospital services annually. Many patients are in condition too critical to permit their being removed so far as the County Hospital. Because of its proximity, it will be contended, Los Angeles, paying 52 per cent of the cost of maintaining hospital service, receives 74 per cent of the service rendered.

Many Examined But Few Chosen for City Jobs

A total of 10,875 persons made application and 8501 took examinations for 168 varieties of city jobs in the fiscal year ending June 30, last, according to data being compiled by Secretary Gravit for the Civil Service Department's annual report.

The applications represent an increase of more than 4000 above the total of the previous fiscal year, when 6754 made application and 5288 took examination for 142 varieties of city work.

Of those taking the examinations in the year ending June 30, a total of 3849 passed, 4652 failed, sixty-seven withdrew from the examinations as too difficult or for other reasons, 506 lacked necessary qualifications, 187 were rejected for various causes and seventy-four were ineligible.

Jobs in the fire department proved the most popular with 1628 applicants, but only 405 passed the examination. Patrolmen who were ambitious to become sergeants came next with 1265 applicants and only 220 made the grade. Applications for janitor work came third, with a total of 927 and 398 made the eligible list.

As the number of persons taking new examinations during the year, last, more than for the last fiscal year, as previously announced, the record for the present fiscal year will surpass all others in the history of the city.

TWO EARLY SYMPTOMS OF RICKETS

Mrs. S. L. writes: "I have a baby girl five months old. She weighed nearly nine pounds when born and now weighs fifteen and one-half pounds. She is bottle fed and gets six ounces at each feeding, every three hours in the day.

"She is trying to cut teeth, her bowels are regular and she sleeps well though I dress her lightly and keep her cool and not in a draft. Nothing at all to cry. Her head is wet most of the time.

"Her stomach has been very large for a long time. She had trouble with her navel at six weeks but this is perfectly well now. What would have her stomach so large? I have given her orange juice and water and she has been taking it since I wet most of the time.

"Answer: I am afraid you make the mistake so many mothers do and that is to give too much orange juice. The important thing is what is in that bottle. It may be good food or bad. Insufficient or excessive in amount.

Your baby has two early signs of rickets, head sweating and an over-large abdomen. The gain has not been good considering the excellent birth weight and the child should have had either cod-liver oil or sunbathing. When she is taking cereals beginning the fifth month.

The most important thing is to correct or alter the milk formula and be sure and give cows' milk, sweet or soured with lactic acid, or baring that possibility, evaporated or dried milk plus the proper fresh fruit juices and cod-liver oil.

Rickets is not a serious ailment unless it is allowed to go uncorrected and now is the time to take it in hand.

All babies who perspire when nursing are not suffering from rickets, but when a child is kept cool and still sweats constantly, as does this baby, the symptom is too serious to be overlooked. When it goes hand in hand with an insufficient gain in weight and the over-large abdomen, I am mailing my formula to you, which, I believe, will be very helpful to you.

When you write me, mothers, be sure and tell me exactly what you are doing for your baby, when it is bottle fed, for unless I know that I am compelled to write just generally, and it is specific help that most mothers want when they write to me personally.

ARE WE BECOMING HEALTHIER?

A study of census reports brings out some interesting facts about sickness. Some diseases are becoming less fatal with the advance of civilization, while others are becoming more deadly.

The average length of life has almost doubled within the last few centuries, and there is every indication that longevity will continue to increase. I have made a study of some of the diseases having the most pronounced changes in the death rates, with the view of determining which diseases are becoming greater menaces to society, and which are being successfully overcome by society, also endeavoring to discover the reasons for these changes. To do this I have taken an average of the last eight years and compared it with the average of the previous eight years.

TYPHOID FEVER

The number of deaths from typhoid fever has been reduced from 13.34 to 8.45 per 100,000. This is one of the most remarkable achievements of modern civilization. The numbers of deaths have been reduced almost 50 per cent in the course of a very few years. I believe this is chiefly because of the preventive measures that have become possible because of our knowledge of this disease. The increased use of sanitary toilets and a better care in selecting the position of wells has reduced the possibility of contaminating the drinking water with the typhoid germ. We also have a careful quarantine of all typhoid cases, and all large cities have periodic inspections of the milk and water consumed.

SMALLPOX

The average number of deaths from smallpox has increased from 28 to 56 per 100,000. Although this is not a large proportion of deaths compared with other diseases, you can see that the average has exactly doubled within the course of sixteen years. If vaccination is as effective as it is supposed to be, what is the reason? My experience indicates to me that the methods of treating this disease, at present in vogue, can be improved.

TUBERCULOSIS

The number of deaths from this wasting disease has been decreased from 128.3 to 88.5 per 100,000. I believe this is largely because we are beginning to realize the importance of selective vitamins and mineral elements in foods and also because of the better treatment of this disease through increased use of fresh air and sunlight. The number of deaths from tuberculosis will undoubtedly be still further reduced as the correct treatment of

CANCER

This dreadful disease is slightly on the increase in the number of deaths per 100,000. Formerly there was an average of 80.21 and now there is an average of 87.23. Although many of the causes of this disease are as yet unknown, I am of the opinion that it can only occur when preceded by a condition of pronounced enervation. Since in this hurry-up age all types of nervousness are on the increase, it may be that the same causes are responsible in some degree for the cancer increase. (To be continued in my next article)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A BIG ADAM'S APPLE

Question: R. J. H. writes: "My Adam's apple is too large and sticks away out. Is there any way to have this operated on to make it smaller?"

Answer: The Adam's apple is normally larger in a man and it cannot be operated on to reduce its size, but it is usually possible to develop the neck muscles to such an extent that they will hide the large size of the Adam's apple.

PUS IN THE BLOOD

Q: R. M. asks: "Is it possible for pus to enter the blood stream, and what would be the result if it did?"

A: It is possible for pus to enter the blood stream, but usually the lymphatic circulation takes care of pus, which is composed of toxic material along with the dead white cells. Pus in the blood cannot usually travel very far, as the lymphatics save the patient's life by carrying away the toxins and dead cells and rendering the toxins less dangerous.

GAS OR NOVOCAIN

Q: K. G. asks: "Which is best, gas or novocain for pulling teeth?"

A: Whether a local or general anesthetic is used by your dentist depends entirely upon the condition of your teeth, the teeth to be extracted and many other factors which your dentist alone can decide.

FEEDING BABY

Q: Mrs. H. L. asks: "What is the best artificial feed for a baby? How old should a baby be before he may have vegetable juice?"

A: After changing from breast nursing the baby should be given nothing but Holstein milk and orange juice up to about 2 years of age, after which he should take a little less milk and begin using the minced nonstarchy vegetables. You may send for my free article on infant feeding, care of this newspaper. He sure to include a large self-addressed stamped envelope.

MAN HELD MURDERED FOR HOARD

Montrose Mexican Slain With Club in Own Home, Reputed Wealthy Motive

The body of Pedro Martinez, 45 years of age, with the head pounded to a pulp by a club, was found in bed at his home, 2519 Montrose avenue, Montrose, yesterday morning. Deputy Sheriff was seeking the man or men believed to have beaten their victim to death before taking a large sum of money that Martinez was said to have concealed in his house.

The body was found by a neighbor, Joe Carmona, 73, who, with another neighbor, Manuel Figueroa, 53, was questioned by deputies. They stated that on Saturday night they had attended the funeral of a Mexican with Martinez, and that later he had gone to his home and there had taken a few drinks. They left soon after and Martinez, when they last saw him, was going to bed. An empty five-gallon wine jug in a vacant lot and other evidence went to show that Martinez had been out of their story. They were not held.

Deputies Reynolds and Ebers of the Alameda subdivision were assigned to the case. Martinez's body is at the Cripple mortuary, Verdugo City, pending a coroner's inquest.

NOVEMBER 5, 1923.—[.....] 1321

The image shows the front cover of a book. The cover is dark, possibly black or dark brown, with a fine, vertical ribbed texture. A vertical strip of lighter, off-white or light grey material runs along the right edge, likely representing the spine or a hinge area. The lighting is somewhat uneven, with a slightly brighter area towards the right edge. There are no titles, logos, or other markings visible on the cover.
